Cookies

TestU's products require the user to enable cookies. However, TestU is careful to protect user privacy. Two types of cookies are used to identify the user throughout the user's session.

WebTrends cookie WebTrends (which calculates visitation statistics) places a unique, anonymous cookie identifying a computer from which the user connects to the TestU's web site. Cookies are used to track users through the site for active reporting. For more information go to www.webtrends.com.

Test cookies Tests use cookies to temporarily save "timer" and "answer sheet" information, allowing the user to refresh or resize a page during the test, and allowing the time and the answer-sheet information to persist on the screen. These cookies have a lifetime of approximately 2 hours, and are deleted after each section of the test, unless the user closes the browser without logging out.
